ChemExpo 2012
at Liberty Science Center

Saturday, October 20th, 2012
10 a.m. – 2 p.m.

Nanotechnology:
The Smallest BIG Idea in Science

Hands-on Science Activities
A family affair presented by area chemists, college and high school chemistry teachers and students.

Visit Liberty Science Center and enjoy this additional event included with general admission to the Center

Coordinated by
North Jersey Section of the American Chemical Society

For further information go to www.njacs.org or email mitachaki@gmail.com