This year the North Jersey Section of the American Chemical Society is celebrating National Chemistry Week by hosting a Chem Expo 2008 at Liberty Science Center on Saturday, October 25, 2008, from 10:00 a.m. – 3 p.m. This joint effort by the high school Teacher Affiliates, collegiate Student Affiliates, and chemists from all industrial and pharmaceutical areas is a wonderful way to showcase chemistry and project a positive image of chemists.

We realize that your organization may not be able to participate in person by setting up an activity, but you may want to make a donation of materials or money and be recognized on that day. Below is a form for you to fill out and return to Bobbi Gorman, 6 Woodhill Street, Somerset, NJ, 08873 BY OCTOBER 10TH.

We appreciate your support of this worthwhile and fun event and look forward to hearing from you.
